WORKSHOP ON LINUX - TERMINAL COMMANDS

Topic: Linux - Terminal Commands

Date: 01/04/2023

Guest Speaker: Dr. Narayana Mahadevan

Objective of the Session: To learn Linux command in terms of placement.

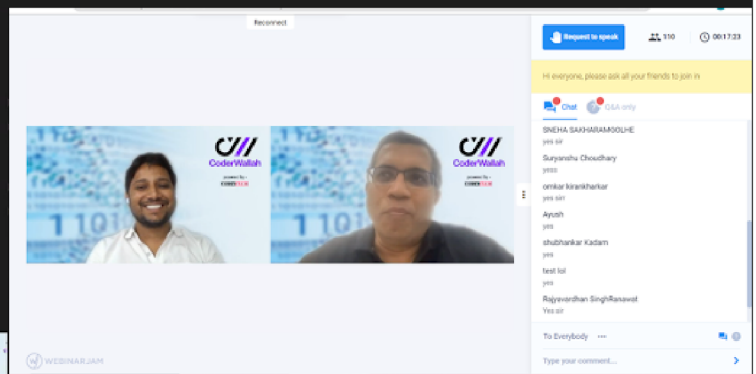

Total number of participants: 125

Outcome of the session: Students were able to execute linux commands.

The Department of Computer Engineering had organized an online session on "Linux - Terminal Commands" for second year Computer Engineering Students under Coding Club in association with Computer Society of India (CSI). Dr. Narayana Mahadevan, the founder of BridgeLabz conducted the session on Linux - Terminal Command. He explained all the linux commands by giving a live demonstration. He also guided students in terms of placements. He shared the expected questions that are most often asked in placements based on linux with the students. He briefed on the topics: Linux Basics, Open Source, CLI - Command Line Interface, Man Command, Basic terminal Commands, Advance Terminal Commands.

It was truly an interactive session. The students had a question and answer session as well. All students enthusiastically participated in the question and answer session, they were able to answer the questions related to Linux commands. The students benefited from this online workshop.
